Rapid Progress Reported By PBI

PAHOKEE — Rapid progress on the second group of nine houses in Pahokee Builders, Inc.'s Ridge Crest Gardens was announced this week by Thurmond W. Knight, PBI secretary-treasurer.

Two residences have been completed, and are occupied; another four are nearly ready, and the roofs are being placed this week on the remaining three, Knight said.

Plans are being prepared for a third group, to consist of five more residences, according to Knight. Of these, two already are sold.

PAHOKEE — The offering of $28 received at Pahokee high school last Friday, when World Day of Prayer was marked, has been sent to the national sponsors' headquarters for use internationally. The senior class presented the special day's program.

BELLE GLADE — The day of training offered for leaders and assistant leaders of Brownie and Intermediate Girl Scouts, last Friday, at the Belle Glade Girl Scout Hut was attended by 17 women from Pahokee, Belle Glade, and Clewiston.

Designed to fill an immediate need until a full length basic training course can be given for the district, it covered a variety of activities including troop government and financing, fire-building, knot-tying, songs, and games.

POLIO SHOTS BY DR. URGED

Parents in the Glades were urged this week to have their children vaccinated by private physicians — if possible — for poliomyelitis.

Urging the polio immunization was Miss Jane Plumer, B.N., of the county health department, who explained the county's vaccine supply is so limited this year that it will be used only for children who cannot be immunized by private physicians.

The polio vaccine will not be given at all in schools this year, Miss Plumer said. However, parents who cannot arrange for private immunization are urged to bring their children to Health Department clinics for polio vaccinations in the Glades as follows:

Tom Elliott On Top List

PAHOKEE — Tommy Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elliott, who is attending the University of Florida, made the dean's list the past semester. He is majoring in accounting. The dean's list is the highest of the college honors, and means that the student is in the top five per cent of his class academically.

Federal Housing On Way

PAHOKEE — Culmination of efforts to obtain a new low-rent housing project for Pahokee was reached this week when the Florida Senators and Rep. Paul Rogers announced that the Public Housing Administration in Washington has authorized a preliminary loan contract in the amount of $22,040 toward the project.

Notification of the loan approval by Public Housing Commissioner Charles E. Slusser was received by OHSI BYVER in a telegram from Senators Spessard L. Holland and George Smathers, and a Congressman Rogers.

The loan will be utilized to finance further surveys for location of the public housing unit, for the preliminary planning and for architectural fees.

PHA action followed a re-checking of the local housing situation in January by field economists from the Atlanta office of PHA.

Pahokee's City Council had spurred federal housing authorities to action last October when it took formal steps to reaffirm the city's need for more low-rent housing in the face of outspoken opposition from several private citizens.

Locating a site for the new housing development will be one of the first steps to be taken. The project will not pay local taxes, but Pahokee Housing Authority Executive Director James Vann has explained that the proposed 115-unit project could bring an estimated $48,000 yearly to the city in lieu of taxes.

Religious Count Is To Be Taken

PAHOKEE — A community religious census will be taken Sunday afternoon by churches of the community. All churches are participating and are asked to send workers to the luncheon meeting to be held at First Baptist Church at 1 p. m. Sunday. All persons wishing to participate in the religious census are asked to take a sandwich lunch to the dining room of the First Baptist Church.

The community will be divided into districts and teams of two will be assigned to canvass. Participating in the religious census are the First Baptist Church, Church of God, Assembly of God, Holy Nativity Episcopal Church, First Methodist Church and Church of the Nazarene.

Everyone is asked to assist in the survey by remaining at home and of giving full cooperation to canvassers in providing the correct information, to be listed on the religious census cards, showing religious affiliation and denomination preference. Persons who will not be at home are asked to leave a note in the door giving ages and church affiliation of each member of the family.

Liquor Permit BG Topic

BELLE GLADE — The liquor question reared its head again Wednesday night at the regular session of the Belle Glade City Commission in one of the most heated meetings the council has had.

The liquor issue developed when the council officially "received" a petition from J. G. Hopkins, bearing 80 signatures asking that he be given permission to operate a drive-in package store at 532 SE Ave. E.

After hearing pros and cons on the matter from the audience of 37 citizens, the council voted unanimously to okay Commissioner Marvin Unwin's motion that the council "make its own independent investigation" of the Hopkins situation before making a ruling on the drive-in package store.

Contention over the Hopkins petition developed because of the location, within 1,000 feet of his proposed drive-in, of a public place of worship, the Church of God.

Hopkins' petition bore the names of property owners who own 80.1 per cent of the property within the 1,000-ft. radius of the drive-in. This exceeded the legal requirements for endorsement by one-tenth of one per cent.

Hopkins' lawyer, Sam Phillips of West Palm Beach, voiced his opinion that, since the city clerk had verified that petition signers were in fact

Florida Battle Ground: Word here is that Kefauver's trip to Florida last week was somewhat of a flop. With Florida as the key to the South in the battle between Stevenson and the senator, all political eyes in Washington are turned to his assistant campaign manager. Although he was careful not to bring him to Florida, the word got out—and didn't help his cause any.

Then Stevenson's stock took a decided rise when the executive secretary of the NAACP jumped on him for his recent statements urging gradual integration in the South. Added to that is the heavy artillery that Stevenson's able manager, Congressman Bob Sikes, is lining up. For example, Congressman Dante Fascell will be on a select state-wide tour for Stevenson now being put together. A cloud of gloom is expected to cover the Kefauver camp when the full slate is announced.

MAYORS' MEETING: When 200 mayors of the top U.S. cities gathered here, Rolfe Davis, mayor of Orlando, was the Occasion was the annual president's closed-door conference and briefing on national problems. The President couldn't be here. He was in Georgia. But Sherman Adams took over for him. Civil Defense was high on the order of business, and with Mayor Davis came Colonel R. H. Betts, Civil Defense Director for Orlando. Highlight of the meeting was a special briefing in the Pentagon by Secretary of Defense Charlie Wilson and members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

WASHINGTON NEWSLETTER

By Sen. George Smathers

WASHINGTON — It was my pleasure to speak Feb. 17 at the dedication ceremonies of the Escambia Bay Chemical Corporation's new plant at Pensacola. I was impressed anew with the great strides Florida is making in a relatively new field—industry.

Tourism is the golden bonus granted Florida, but agriculture and industry are increasingly stabilizing the economy. The chemical corporation has built a $25 million plant, and opened with a million dollar contribution to the state. Florida industries, such as the great Chemstrand nylon plant. Every time I visit North-west Florida, I see new development. Progress is noticeable in a short time, not to mention the contrast one can find in the relatively new North-west Florida of the 30's.

The seven-league strides of Florida are striking in some measure to the growing military establishments, situated all over the state. The military has made a substantial contribution to Florida's economy, and conversely, Florida has been hospitable to the Armed Forces and has served the nation well in war and in peace.

And now, Florida, with more industries building constantly is ready to serve the country even more. For American industry is the steel sinew which gives power to the military might. Industry has chalked up a reasonable record in the United States. In its production of steel, it is leading the world, and our hope that we shall avoid war.

As the Soviet becomes bolder in the East and throughout the world, it is evident that we must call on industry for new and expanded effort. I have no doubt that industry stands ready to do its job.

IT'S UP TO YOU

By Howard E. Kershner, L.H.D.

I disagree with some of my neighbors about religious beliefs. How can I prove which beliefs are right?

You cannot prove which viewpoint is correct in terms of material benefits, nor on the basis of pure logic. Religion deals with values which supersede present day understanding.

A mere belief in God presupposes an intelligence greater than that of the believer. Faith, hope and love carry into a realm which satisfies people and make life worth living.

We cannot entirely prove our differences in belief—but we can find in fellowship with our own faith that our own satisfaction is proof that we have something to offer. Maybe the other fellow finds as much satisfaction in his beliefs as we do.

Jesus once said, "In my Father's house are many mansions; if it were not so I would have told you." There is doubtless room in God's heaven for all who believe in faith and viewpoint. WHAT you believe is probably less important than THAT you believe.

County-By-County Bass Contest Is Announced

A county-by-county big bass contest is a new feature of the statewide Rudy Schaefer Fishing Contest.

For the first time every county will compete on equal terms in the county-by-county big bass contest, with like awards set up for each of Florida's 67 counties. During the first two years of the statewide contest, big bass have come in from 48 of the 67 counties.

With the contest from every county for the first time, Florida will have a set of statistics, and one that will prove startling. Anglers all over America have heard of a few top spots, but who in the United States knows he can take a bass of six or more pounds in the waters of every Florida county?

The angler and weighmaster will receive special awards for their efforts. So will guides when catches are made under their direction. A similar set of awards go to those who release the most bass. Card files will be kept for the release class so each angler's release totals can be totaled for the entire year.

The place of residence does not matter. It's the location of the water that counts. In case where water becomes part of a county boundary, Schaefer headquarters will accept the ruling of the weighmaster as to which county gets credit.

Mackinac Island. A U. S. Army physician named William Beaumont was called to treat the wound in the stomach, torn open by close-range firing. Beaumont worked hard but failed to close the wound. Nevertheless, he was able to apply bandages in such a way that the stomach could still do its normal work.

A year later the boy needed a cathartic, and Beaumont gave it to him through the hole in the stomach. It worked as well as if it had been given by mouth! With great daring Beaumont then decided to launch a series of experiments that won him honors as one of medicine's greatest researchers.

Out of St. Martin's open wound he made a living test tube. He dangled small bits of food on strings into the hole and hours later withdrew from the stomach what was left, carefully noting what he saw.

In seven years Beaumont executed 238 experiments on an often rebellious subject. He proved man's digestive process was purely chemical and that emotional distress could affect digestion or even stop it.

St. Martin lived long after Beaumont died, earning his living from medical schools.

Corn Hybrid Planting Suggested To Be Best

GAINESVILLE — Aubrey Mixon, assistant agronomist with the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, this week advised farmers to stick to certified seed of adapted hybrids when planting corn this year.

Mixon said the old (open-pollinated) varieties have lower yields than hybrids; and that even seed from crib stocks from last year's hybrid corn crop will produce a crop of lower yields.

He also warned that farmers should use care in selecting the hybrid variety. Some are adapted to North Florida and some to South Florida, he said.

The agronomist said hybrid seed for planting costs about $1.12 an acre. But seed selections from cribs of last year's hybrid crop will cost more in the long run, due to reduced yields.

Likewise, the old (open-pollinated) varieties will not be as profitable for the farmer due to their lower yields compared to hybrids.

Antibiotics Show Promise In Plant Disease Control

GAINESVILLE — Use of antibiotics in preventing or controlling diseases is a major project at the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations.

Streptomycin is the most promising of the materials used so far, researchers say.

Common preparations of this antibiotic, in addition to showing some results in controlling fungus, has worked well against fireblight of pears and apples; bacterial spot of tomatoes and peppers; wildfire and blue mold of tobacco; soft rot and black leg of potatoes; bacterial wilt of chrysanthemums; blight of blight of celery and soft rot of philodendron.

Laboratory control of other diseases also has been accomplished but recommendations are not final yet.

Two new properties, oligomycin and filipin, seem to have antifungal properties, though testing is in progress. Development of these two antibiotics for that purpose will require considerable experimenting.

Costs, a limiting factor in antibiotic use, should come down with added use. Dr. Donald Coo, Extension Service plant pathologist, one of the experimenters, says the cruder forms of antibiotics may be better for agricultural purposes than the more refined type; this would cut costs considerably.

Over Three Million Given For New Religious Structures

American citizens have given over $3,000,000,000 for new religious structures in the past decade, according to the American Association of Fund-Raising Councils. $835,000,000 has been spent in new religious construction since 1945. The bulk of this money has been raised through special building programs. Approximately 1,000 such church building programs are conducted each year under the guidance of professional fund-raising counsel. Total religious assets in the United States are estimated in excess of $11,000,000,000.

Marvin Smith Is WSWN's Manager

Marvin Smith, who has been associated with Radio Station WSWN for the past five and a half years, has been named station general manager by E. D. Rivers, jr., chairman of the board of the Seminole Broadcasting Co.

Smith, a native of Williston, joined the staff of the Glades radio station at Belle Glade when it was under the management of Tom Watson, jr., the station's builder. He has been sales manager of the station.

Formerly associated with stations in Leesburg, Daytona Beach, and Lakeland, Smith is a graduate of the University of Florida and served in the South Pacific during World War II. He is married to the former Charline Carson, of Williston. The Smiths have two children, and live at 578 SE Third St., Belle Glade.

The station's staff also includes C. S. "Curley" Clemans, chief engineer, who has been associated with WSWN since its inception; E. C. "Buzz" Walker, program director; Al Harris, announcer-engineer; Bill Mathis, announcer, and Audrey Meade, traffic manager.

LIQUOR —

(Continued From Page 1) property owners in the affected area, the city council had no alternative but to accept the petition. Since his client had met all requirements of law, he said, terms of the petition had to be granted.

Whereupon members of the audience arose to question some signatures on the petitions. Mrs. R. V. Allison charged that some signers, including Mrs. Erna F. Greer, a property holder now residing in Lake Worth, affixed their signatures to the petition after not being told the "full" story by Mr. Hopkins.

At this charge Hopkins jumped to his feet and stated: "In all my life, I haven't lied to any person. Are you accusing me, Mrs. Allison, of lying?"

"No," replied Mrs. Allison, insisting still that signers had not been fully cognizant of all facts.

R. S. Burr, an affected property owner, questioned validity of some petition signatures, including endorsement of the Elks Club. He raised the question as to whether signers could request their names be stricken from the Hopkins petition.

This issue brought on additional comments, with the consensus that names, once affixed to a petition, could not be stricken.

Whereupon Burr presented two similar petitions to the council which requested that body to disallow establishment of the drive-in package store.

The two petitions were said to have been signed by about 45 affected property owners, some of whom had previously signed the Hopkins petition.

A letter from the Church of God congregation, with 39 signers opposing the liquor drive-in, was also read.

Among other speakers from the floor were Earl Lindrose, Rev. J. M. Gresham, Dr. Allison, Floyd Rider, and H. O. Carlton. Lindrose reported on a meeting of the Elks Club Monday, when the club went on record to rescind its earlier endorsement of the Hopkins petition.

In his statement to the commission, Attorney Phillips asserted that Hopkins had been a liquor dealer in Belle Glade for years and had never been cited for violations of any kind. He explained that his client would actually be alleviating the Belle Glade liquor situation, in that he was purchasing an existing combination bar-and-package store license and would use it for package store only.

In other action, the commission:

Agreed to meet with representatives of the FEC railroad and civic clubs at 10 a.m. next Wednesday to discuss lowering of the FEC trestle over the Hillsboro Canal;

Voted to dig four or five new wells to supplement three existing city wells, all to be tied in with city water mains and used at least during summer months;

Okayed Everglades Post No. 20, American Legion, request for exemption from tax on its building;

Agreed to install warning blinker at corner of Highway 441 and SR 15.

Moved to request County Registrar Upthegrove to position registration booth in front of City Hall, with city registration books to remain in city clerk's office;

Granted Mrs. B. N. Forrest permission to park her auto free in front of her place of business on Fifth St.;

Reported agreement reached with county on reconditioning of West Lake Rd., to begin on Monday.

THREAT REVEALED

Dr. R. V. Allison, head of the Experiment Station in Belle Glade, made a startling revelation at the City Commission meeting Monday when he told of a telephone threat made to him in a Belle Glade liquor controversy several years ago.

According to Allison, he was informed by a caller that unless his wife desisted from her anti-liquor activity, the caller would go to Nathan Mayo concerning Dr. Allison's job. Mayo is state commissioner of agriculture.

Dr. Allison told the audience that he had never previously informed his wife of the threat. Saying that he didn't know the identity of the phony caller, Dr. Allison said he was sure "the caller is in the hall this evening."

Attorney Phillips strenuously objected to the immodesty that his client, Mr. Hopkins, might have been the caller or a party to the telephone threat.

36 SCOUTS AT TROOP LIMIT
PAHOKEE — The acceptance of 10 new Lakewood Scouts into the Lakewood Boy Scout Troop 28 during the past week increased the membership to 36 and Scoutmasters Louis Mims and Ed Carver have found it necessary to close the troop with this number, membership hereafter to be limited to 36 Scouts.

The decision to close Troop 28 was made reluctantly by Scoutmasters, they said, but was due to the smallness of the troop bus used to transport the Scouts on field and camping trips, the smallness of the Scout Home in City Park and the lack of adult leaders willing to give their time for Scouting activities.

When a troop becomes over-sized and Scoutmasters have to deal with Scouts as a group instead of individuals there is a danger it will lose some of its effectiveness in youth training, according to Mims.

What the community really needs now, he said, is the formation of a new Boy Scout Troop under the sponsorship of a civic organization. Boys of the community are showing more and more interest in Scouting and there is little doubt a new troop would become an immediate success if willing and qualified leaders and a sponsoring group that will really support the troop can be found, Mims said.

To join Troop 28 now a boy has to file application, attend three meetings, then stay on the waiting list until a regular member resigns.

Lamar Williams came home for the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Eunice Huble of Palatka, and his father, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Dean.

POWER PROBLEM

A modern flight speed, power requirements for aircraft mount astronomically—demanding more advanced research and development. Beyond 500 miles an hour vast increases in power are needed for each slight increase in speed. A plane that will do 600 miles an hour with 11,000 horsepower engine, for example, would need 67,000 horsepower to fly 1,000 miles an hour.

Health TOPICS

Presented by your doctor of Medicine as a Health Topics Series of the American Medical Association and your Local Medical Society.

ULCERS

An ulcer is like a clean-cut or pre-cut hole occurring in the lining of the stomach or the first part of the small intestine. Many ulcers are the result of stress and may occur as being investigated.

Ulcers may develop at any age, but the greatest incidence appears to be between the ages of twenty and fifty. Emotional and mental strain, anxiety and tension are all considered factors leading to their development. More men than women get them. Most ulcers seem to occur and recur in the spring and fall, during the winter months.

Symptoms vary but the most characteristic one is an acute abdominal distress, which may take the form of a gnawing, burning or aching pain. The distress disappears almost immediately after a meal, but returns two or three hours later when the stomach is empty. Very often the distress will last several days or weeks and then disappear completely only to recur again.

Vomiting is associated with ulcers. Very often this relieves the sufferer because it is thought, the offending acids are thereby eliminated. Frequently the patient will vomit blood, particularly if the ulcer has progressed to the point where it old struts the exit of the stomach and it penetrates a blood vessel. Because of the characteristic acute distress, the ulcer sufferer is susceptible to every "curative" strategy to relieve an alleged indigestion. This can be dangerous because only delays the seeking of medical treatment. As time goes on the ulcer can increase in size, become more difficult to control and cause greater and more prolonged pain.

A thorough physical examination, including x-ray, is necessary for diagnosis of the type of ulcer, its location and area affected. If detected in time, medical management and dietary measures are commonly successful in treating them. It is only the complicated ones and those presenting special problems in treatment that require surgery.

INCOME TAX FACTS No. 2 Save Money with the Right Form

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax laws. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Florida Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

The government provides two forms for individual income tax returns. If you choose the wrong one, you may automatically cut yourself out of many possible tax savings. The easiest way to be sure to use the simple Form 1040A. It's a card the size of a check. You can fill it out if you are able to write his name and address and a few other simple facts. You need not use it with your withholding slips and the government takes care of the rest. If you have more tax than was withheld you will get a bill for the difference. If more was withheld than you owe, you will get a refund check.

The tax rules permit you to use the card form if your gross income consisted only of wages, dividends or interest totaling less than $5,000, and if you did not have more than $100 of gross income apart from that listed on your W-2 withholding slips.

Step. Look. Listen. Before deciding to use the card Form 1040A, you should consider these facts:

1. Your tax will be figured from a table which allows you a deduction of income tax savings instead of itemized deductions for contributions, taxes, interest paid, medical and dental expenses, etc.
2. There is no provision in this form for filing as "head of a household," as a "surviving spouse," or for claiming special credits for dividends and retirement income.
3. If you are sure that these two points would not cost you any tax savings, and if your income is within the limits for filing a Form 1040A, you might as well use this simple card form.
4. If you decide to use the regular Form 1040, you still have the option of itemizing your deductions or using a standard deduction which generally amounts to about 10% of your income.
5. You are likely to save by itemizing your deductions if you:
 - a. Own real estate.
 - b. Have unusual medical expense.
 - c. Had deductible child-care expense.
 - d. Suffered losses from fire, storm, accident, or theft.

Top Elk To Visit Pahokee

PAHOKEE—One of the most important events in the history of local Elks' activities will occur here Wednesday, Mar. 14, when John L. Walker, of Roanoke, Va., grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks makes an official visit to Pahokee Elks Lodge.

District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler L. J. Fraser and Exalted Ruler Leon Spooner, in announcing Walker's forthcoming visit, said that plans are being made for a barbecue or similar event in order that the public may also hear the 50-year-old leader of the nation's 1,500,000 Elks.

Walker practiced law for two years in West Palm Beach, before becoming associated in 1930 with the Roanoke law firm that is now Woods, Rogers, Muse, and Walker.

Walker's considerable experience in youth work with the Virginia State Elks Association brought forth one of the objectives he set for his leadership of the order—an expansion of Elks youth-serving programs to help combat juvenile delinquency.

The local Elks' lodge has been especially active in youth work in recent years, with its sponsorship of the Elks Youth Chorus, housing of Teen Town, and similar efforts on behalf of the community.

Walker is the third Virginian to head the BPOE in this year. Elected unanimously to office at the age of 49, he was the youngest man to be named grand exalted ruler in many years.

ARE YOU TOO FAT?

The danger of overweight cannot be over-emphasized. Although obesity is not a disease in itself, it is a predisposing factor in certain diseases. Diabetes mellitus more frequently in people who are overweight, and the prevention of overweight is recommended. Keeping the weight at normal.

Overweight puts a strain on the heart, kidneys and blood vessels, and death from circulatory disorders is rated one and a half times as high among the overweight as compared with the normal. Gallbladder disease is common in overweight people. The hobbling effects of arthritis are seen more often in the obese, and it is obvious that joint troubles can be due partly to the mechanical difficulty of carrying excess weight.

Overweight persons are not good surgical risks chiefly due to vascular complications and to the slower healing of surgical incision made through layers of fatty tissue.

Obesity is considered one of the major health problems in this country today and certainly is a serious nutritional abnormality. Over 60 per cent of all persons over 30 years of age, a total of some 15 million people, are ten per cent or more overweight, according to estimate.

The basic cause of overweight is eating food in excess of the calorie needs. Medical scientists are studying the prevalence and distribution of overweight, its causes and predisposing factors, and the reasons for success or failure of treatment. And they all agree that the indispensable tool in the treatment and prevention of obesity is reduction of the caloric intake through proper diet. It is in establishing and maintaining a proper diet that the overweight individual is personally responsible.
